Dear Frances and Everyone in Scoil San Treasa,

Thank you very much for your recent generous support of €3,600

By choosing to support UNICEF, you are supporting the world's largest humanitarian organization for children. Over seven decades, UNICEF has saved the lives of more children than any other organization in the world; a fact that we are particularly proud of. Each year we vaccinate approximately 2 billion children in over 100 countries from entirely preventable diseases, thereby saving countless lives. Your support helps us in that life-saving achievement.

Under our mandate from the United Nations one of UNICEF's core missions is emergency response. Because we have a global presence, we are able to respond to large humanitarian catastrophes in real time, anywhere in the world. We have programmes in over 150 countries, so we are there "before, during and after" an emergency strike. Each year UNICEF responds to hundreds of humanitarian situations throughout the world. Last year we responded to 442 emergencies - large and small. Most of these did not reach the news headlines but nevertheless affect millions of children. These emergencies included the earthquakes in Turkey, Syria and Morocco, Sudan's civil conflict, the floods in Libya, Ukraine, Yemen and most recently the humanitarian catastrophe in Gaza. Our mandate from the United Nations requires that we respond to every humanitarian situation in the countries where we operate and that is why your support today is so important. Your generosity allows UNICEF to have the organization and life-saving supplies in place to respond immediately to emergencies as they occur. In every country our rapid response teams are able to work with governments and local systems to ensure that the response is rapid and at as scale to match the emergency.
